CITY MATTERS.

The Cincinnati Enquirer says Springfield took care of the Republican State Convention in a manner that might be imitated with profit by some larger towns.

Mr. J. F. Wilson, of Greenfield, O., a late graduate of Nelson's Business College, after a short stay at home, is again with his many friends of this city for a few days.

A little ten year old daughter of George Kern, corner of Grand avenue and Monroe street, was badly scalded this morning. She was sitting in the doorway, when an older sister spilled a pan of boiling water over her. Dr. Reynolds is attending her.

The observance of what it known as "Children's Day" tomorrow (Sunday) evening at 7:30, in the Trinity Baptist church, corner of Mulberry and Limestone streets, promises to be an occasion of great interest to all who may attend. In addition to the readings, recitations, music, etc., by the school, there will be a concise history of the origin of "Children's Day." A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Jerry Costello was arrested last night for drunken and disorderly conduct. Jerry is one of the three who assaulted Gleeson day before yesterday. Charles Logie loitered around the streets until Jim Norton fell out of him. Charles stands a good show of loitering away a few pleasant hours on the spot. Frank Baker, drunk and disorderly, is indebted to Officers Nickles and Ward and the patrol wagon for his present prospect of passing a portion of the heated term at the city's sanitarium at the foot of Plum street.

Important Partition Suit.

By their attorney, J. K. Mower, a civil suit was filed Friday by Mary T. Springman, Emma Coburn, Moses D. Coburn, against Martha Springman, Sarah Abigail Springman, Ida Beristadt, Octavia Marshall, John E. Marshall, Peter Springman, Kittie Springman, Ida Sandan and husband, O. S. Kelly and C. C. & I. R. R. The petition asks for a partition of the disputed ground on Market Square claimed by the Springman heirs. They also claim that part of their ground is covered by the Arcade and part by the C. C. & I. railroad. They claim this valuable tract reverts to the Springman heirs on the ground that the terms of the will, providing that it should be used for market purposes only, have been violated. There has been frequent talk about buying out the heirs, but nothing has been done in the matter.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Clark County.

On Thursday, June 4th, the Annual Convention of the Clark county W. C. T. U. was held at Selma, in the Friends' church. The attendance was good and the services were interesting.

Mother Stewart, who had been ill several weeks, presided effectively.

The first half hour was spent in devotional exercises, led by Mrs. Mary Wildman. Prayers were offered for the success of the State W. C. T. U. Convention to be held at Kenton during the coming week.

Next in order were reports. Miss Coville, the Secretary, read an interesting report of the work done during the past year. It showed that there are three live hard working Unions in the county, that several other Unions organized a year or two ago have not been doing much, that no report could be obtained from some of them. The Treasurer not being present the Secretary read her report. It showed a balance of over twenty-two dollars. Reports from the local Unions at Springfield, Enon and Seino were to the effect that all are working and in a fairly prosperous condition. Enon reported over sixty members. Mr. Webster, of South Charleston, said that the Union at that place was not doing much, but the ladies were ready to begin soon. He closed by saying that he was authorized to invite the Union to hold its next meeting at South Charleston.

The afternoon session opened with singing. The choir was composed of Selma young ladies, who did their part well. Miss Shanks, of Enon, led the devotional exercises. The subject of the scripture reading and remarks was: "Who shall roll us away the stone?"

Miss Alice Melloy, of Selma, read the address of welcome. It was a pleasing and interesting one, and was feelingly responded to by Mrs. Jane Anderson, of Springfield. Her response was eloquent, showing that her heart is in the temperance work. One thing she said called forth a remark from another lady further on in the convention. Mrs. Anderson said she believed the great liquor curse would yet go down in blood. Mrs. Barnes thought it "would be in the blood of the two great political parties."

The committee on nominations reported Mrs. Hannah Scott, of Selma, for president; Miss S. R. Shanks, of Enon, for secretary, and Mrs. Oliver Smith, of Springfield, for treasurer. These ladies were elected and duly installed.

Mrs. Binwodine, Mrs. Hannah Smith and Miss Shanks were chosen delegates to the State Convention.

Mr. Robt. H. Young, of Springfield, read a paper on the question, "Should the W. C. T. U. of Ohio endorse the Prohibition Party?" The paper was published in the News Era of this week.

A motion was made that fifty to one hundred of the best women in the world attend the Prohibition State Convention to be held at Springfield, July first and second, as visiting delegates. The motion prevailed and the W. C. T. U. ladies of Clark will attend the convention, July 21, in a body.

Mr. O. M. Sellers, of Springfield, made a short address, for which several ladies and gentlemen spoke earnest words of encouragement.

"The New Era," of this week, from which paper we have compiled the foregoing, says: "All except a few Republicans went away feeling that it was good to be there."

The W. C. T. U. of Clark county doesn't seem to desire the support of Republicans.

The Columbus and Springfield Clubs at Recreation Park.

Saturday's Ohio State Journal has the following report of Friday's game at Columbus:

A fair crowd attended the game at Recreation park yesterday afternoon to see the Columbus and Springfield clubs cross bats. The visitors are considered the strongest team in the State League and expected to defeat Columbus.

It was closely fought for seven innings, when, on account of rain, the umpire called the game. The score was then tied at 7. Another game will be played this afternoon. The score of yesterday's game is as follows:
